We Both Agree on How to Divide the Debts (Hold Harmless Provision)

Both spouses agree to divide their debts as listed above. The husband agrees to pay all the debts listed under "Husband's Debts." The wife agrees to pay all the debts listed under "Wife's Debts." The wife will not try to make the husband pay her debts. The husband will not try to make the wife pay his debts. Creditors will try to collect from both spouses. Both spouses understand this. A creditor may get one spouse to pay the other spouse's debt. If that happens, the spouse who is supposed to pay the debt will pay the other spouse back. They will pay back any payments and reasonable lawyer's fees the spouse made. They will pay back any costs of trying to stop a creditor from collecting the debt.

Notice!

Husband and Wife understand that the Final Decree does not necessarily affect the ability of a creditor to proceed against a party or a party's property, even though the party is not responsible under the terms of the decree for an account, any debt associated with an account or any debt. It may be in a party's best interest to cancel, close or freeze any jointly held accounts. T.C.A. §36-4-134.

This means that the Final Decree of Divorce does not protect you against creditors. They may try to collect from you, even if your spouse is responsible for the debt. It may be best to cancel, close, or freeze any accounts you have together.

ENTIRE AGREEMENT

This document says everything the husband and wife agreed to. They both give up any legal claims they have against each other. Any other agreements between them that are not in this paper are no longer any good. They cannot make each other live up to any agreements that are not in this document.

WARNING - CHANGES (MODIFICATION)

After the divorce is final, the spouses may later want to change or drop parts of this agreement. Changes must be put in writing and filed with the Court Clerk and approved by the judge. You may want to talk to an attorney.
